

OUR TEACHER EDUCATION FACULTY

The Teacher Education Department provides our students with vital resources relating to environmental education. Many of our students interested in the education aspect of environmental studies choose to work with members of the department, making the faculty their advisor or committee members.

DR. TRACEY HUNTER-DONIGER

Dr. Hunter-Doniger serves as an active advisor to our students. A previous K-12 educator, her research interests include STEAM education, creativity in education, and art infused education. She is also the founder of Project Inspire, a k-8 STEAM education program partnered closely with the EVSS Program.

DR. WILLIAM VEAL

Dr. Veal serves as an advisor and committee member to our students interested in environmental education. His research interests include reform-based science education and cross-cultural learning.
